WE'RE GHOOMAR MAHILA SAMITI

We Ghoomar Mahila Samiti, started our journey almost a decades back, in May, 2008. Our humble start began with a modest project in Bali, Pali Rajasthan. Funded by SRIJAN special place in our minds and history. Soon, we started streamlining our nergies and initiatives and sectionalised into two broad segments. In the 1st year of our operations, our Initiatives were centred around building of community institutions. Soon, we grew from taking baby steps to smaller walks in our second generation of operations. The second generation that began in 2015, helped us in shaping ourselves into a better civil organization society. With interventions that brought a significant change in the lives of many, our second generation had initiatives on sustainable livelihood models like agriculture and horticulture, replication of models and government liaisons. Without losing any steam, we moved on to our third generation, where we had the opportunity to give shape to newer initiatives. We continued with our projects that helped communities with sustainable livelihoods and made our reach deeper into the country. We introduced a set of new initiatives like setting up organisations for farmer produce, promoting value chain and positioned ourselves as a community institution. This in turn, helped us with a robust organisational cadre for our organisation. But then, as we all believe, this is just the start and we have to go more miles to reach our destination.

Major Activities

COMMUNITY INSTITUTION

GMS work on the ground starts with building community institutions like Self-help groups, Clusters. The core strategy to work with these institutions is to build leadership in them and provide capacity building support for managing the institutions. There are structured training programs for the community leaders at various intervals and phase of the institutions – forming, norming and storming. Financial management/ loan disbursement/ collective leadership are key components of Self-help group management.

CUSTARD APPLE VALUE CHAIN

Ghoomar Mahila Samiti (GMS) ventured into Marketing of Custard Apple pulp. Leaders of GMS took the responsibility of collection of Custard apple and developed village level collection Center. Training were given at each center for building capacity of women and Center in charge which procured Custard apple and a collection vehicle collected it from every center and unloaded it to warehousing facility at NANA. After storing it for a desired period the sorting was done and ripened fruit were sent for post processing at pulp processing unit. In processing unit, fruits were scooped and then dumped into a pulper which separated seed and fruit pulp. Waste peels were sent to a compost pit where further treatment is done to produce organic manure. Seeds are sundried for two days to remove all the moisture out of it and then stored into sacks. Custard apple pulp were then packed into one kg packaging which was hardened for one day and then stored in the refrigeration facility both at the plant and cold storage facility in Udaipur. From there it was sold to retail and wholesale buyers. Pulp is mostly consumed by weddings events in Rajasthan and Gujarat. Organic manure will mostly sold to SHGs at a reduced rate. Seeds have good demands from different industries like Shampoo, Dye makers, etc.
